
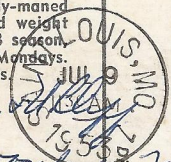
LION SHOW, ST. LOUIS ZOO

© 1952, St. Louis Zoological Board of Control

Teaching lions to hold with their mouths is a real accomplishment, but here two handsomely-maned lions at the St. Louis Zoo hold the suspended weight of their trainer, Jules Jacot. During the 1953 season the Lion Show may be seen daily, excepting Mondays. It is one of three free animal training shows.

Kodak Color Reproduction



Dear Aunt Bebe -

We're having a wonderful vacation - Wish you could be here too. We're going to the Opera - Friday & next Tuesday nites. Jimmy called everything at zoo - coo cows, Ha Ha. He really loved it. See you soon. Love, Rita & kids

Mr & Mrs. Cliff Helm

Oak Sprongs Farm

Seneca, Missouri